 Stefano Henide and Wife Are Killed from Ambush.
 (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
 VACHERIE (La.) July 23.—The Mafia has begun its work at St. James parish, and already two persons, a man and his wife have been foully murdered. On Sunday morning Stefano Henide and his wife, as was their custom, left their home on the Lacena plantation near Vacherie Station to visit their daughter, who resides with her husband on Oak Alley plantation, about four miles distant. Stefano, before leaving, cleaned his shotgun and loaded it. The reason for his doing this is not known, but the impression prevails that he expected trouble. When the couple reached Oak Alley Station, a lone person, who was concealed by the roadside, a rigid investigation of the tragedy is being made by the authorities.

 An Analysis of Its Stains to be Made.

The Search in the Bowels of Holmes's House is Still Going On.

Mysterious Movements at Milwaukee.
 Detective Geyer Gives Up His Search for Howard Pitzel and Minier Takes His Warrant.

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
 CHICAGO, July 23.—During the police examination of the house of H. H. Holmes today, a portion of a woman's wrapper, torn and stained, was found. The nature of the stains could not be determined and an analysis will be made. Hidden away in the rubbish was a barrel and in it, buried among broken crockery and old tinware, was a dress. The house was surrounded all day by a curious crowd.

A MILWAUKEE MYSTERY.
 MILWAUKEE (Wis.) July 23.—It is believed that H. H. Holmes, the notorious insurance swindler and alleged murderer, accompanied by Nellie and Howard Pitzel, were in Milwaukee for several days in last October. A man answering the description of Holmes called at the Plankinton House with two children, who were the elder of the two, and both children were well-dressed and very bright. The stranger told Manager King that he had come from the Davidson Theater after the performance, and that the girl had told him that her father had gone to Waukesha on business. The children were kept at the hotel several days. Then they disappeared.

They next turned up at the office of the Northwestern agent for the same and called on him and asked for Frederick Hall, the city ticket agent. The latter was told by the stranger that the children had been found in the hotel and that the hotel-keeper refused to keep them any longer. He said that the girl had told him that her father, William Dixon of Sterling, Ill., had called on him and that he had given him a real-estate deal and that he had taken charge of the children. Hall, did not question the children, but the stranger told him that he had gone to Waukesha to close a large deal. To gether with the children, Hall and the stranger started for the Wisconsin Hotel. When they got near the hotel the stranger excused himself, saying that he would have to catch a train for Chicago. At the time he was engaged in his name and address as Knapp of No. 2355 Calumet avenue, Chicago.

Hall took the children to the hotel and the stranger remained for the night. The night a woman called at the hotel and waited on the sidewalk until she could talk to the children. Between 9 and 10 o'clock the children and the stranger came to steal from the hotel, and the last trace that the police could find was that the children had gone with the woman. Detective Geyer will probably return today or tomorrow from Detroit. It is not known what information Mrs. Howard may have of Holmes's doings at Toronto, but it is believed that if she testifies against him she could make the case of the crown much stronger than it now is.

HOLMES AS A STUDENT.
 CHICAGO, July 23.—Dr. George A. Heath, resident surgeon at the University Hospital, Ann Arbor, Mich., writes from Monroe, Mich., as follows: "In reference to the man H. H. Holmes, I knew him fairly well while he was studying medicine at the University of Michigan. He graduated from the medical department of the University of Michigan in 1884. I have his photograph in a class picture, and it much resembles the one of him published in several Chicago newspapers."

DID NOT FIND HOWARD PITZEL.
 DETROIT (Mich.) July 23.—Detective Geyer of Philadelphia gave up the search for the missing Howard Pitzel in Detroit this afternoon and left in response to telegrams calling him to Indianapolis, where, it is said, certain developments have been made in the case. He said that he had found no positive evidence that Howard was ever brought to Detroit, but that he had learned many things of value in the prosecution of the cases against Holmes for murder.

ANOTHER WARRANT ISSUED FOR HOLMES.
 CHICAGO, July 23.—Arthur Minier took out a warrant this afternoon before Justice Richardson for H. H. Holmes. The charge is murder and Minier says that he believes his aunt, Mrs. Connor, was killed by Holmes between August 1 and November 1, 1892.

BUSINESS AND POLITICS.
 Assistant Secretary Curtis Talks of His Observations in London.
 WASHINGTON, July 23.—Assistant Secretary Curtis of the Treasury Department, who went to London to deliver to the Rothschilds the foreign quota of bonds in the recent gold syndicate sales, returned to Washington today.

In the course of a conversation regarding his trip, Curtis said: "The business in London was successfully completed, and I am glad to return to my own country. I found the feeling regarding investments in United States stocks, bonds and other securities, both public and private, better than I expected. There is a very large amount of money in England awaiting investment, and I am satisfied that if the holders were assured the value of what they bought would not be reduced by legislation regarding our currency, large amounts would flow to this side of the water and an era of great prosperity would follow in this country."

"It was surprising to find England enjoying an American summer. During the six weeks of my stay in London, there were but two or three light showers. In fact, the coldest drought has had a very serious effect on the agricultural interests in the midland and southern counties."

"The political excitement attendant on a change of government was most marked and the dissolution of Parliament and the campaign for the new elections was very interesting to an outsider. I pointed out, however, which struck me forcibly was that the change of government made no change in the daily business of the department and, although it was in the treasury the morning after the announcement of the new ministry taking office, there were no attendant disturbances and the heads of the bureau and divisions had no anxiety as to any prospective devaluation. In fact, I was a member of the new government, the total patronage, including, of course, the highest offices, only amounted to about 60 per cent. decrease, and an analysis will be made. Hidden away in the rubbish was a barrel and in it, buried among broken crockery and old tinware, was a dress. The house was surrounded all day by a curious crowd."

FOXY FOX SHOWN UP.
 THE ANTI-CHINESE HUNTER IS UNMASKED.
 He is Accused of Having Aided Chinese Secretly to Effect a Landing by Illegal Certificates—Young Daniel Dare Dares Him to Dispute It.

(BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TIMES.)
 SAN FRANCISCO, July 23.—(Special Dispatch.) George W. Fox, president of the Anti-Chinese Law and Order League, a man who gained livelihood for Superior Judge, and who for seventy-two nights of the last campaign howled in the teeth of the foe: "The Chinese must go," was today accused of aiding Mongolians to land. His accuser is young Daniel Dare, who for a time or so has called himself "Hewthorn" and is serving summonses for Fox, sweeping out his office, and doing "hysterical," as he declares.

He quarreled with Fox, and today went before Deputy Labor Commissioner Dan McLaughlin for deposition. In it he stated that Fox had been in unlawfully landing Chinese; that the deponent, under instruction, delivered messages to J. B. Wyman and Jacob Levy, who were engaged with Fox in "thus smuggling business; that Chinese would visit the Fox office with packages of photographs and some kind of certificates; that Fox never appeared in court on behalf of Chinese desiring to land, but that certificates filed by him in the hands of Chinese effected their landing, and, finally, that Fox had at different times held conversations with a deponent, in which he admitted and discussed the illegal Chinese certificate business in which he was engaged."

Dare says that Fox conducted the business with the Chinese in his private office, but that he could hear the voice of stump speaker demanding money from his Chinese clients. Fox was also plentiful after such visits, and Fox would often wish for his Mongol customers when funds ran low.

Fox professed indignation when told of the contents of Dare's deposition and said that it would result in sending the young man to State's prison. He added that he had had only three Chinese cases in his professional career. Fox says that he will look up the affidavit and then make it hot for Dare. "Let him do it," said Dare. "He dare not arrest me. Why, he is a fake, and all the time he was making anti-Chinese speeches he had Chinese coming to his office. He made them think that he had great power at Washington. Then, too, he was cheap, and that goes a long way with the Chinese."

FIGHTING HOME RULE.
 Alleged American Sentiment from an Officious Individual.
 (REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
 LONDON, July 23.—Walter Phelps Dodge has written a letter to the Times in which he repudiates the statement made by Chauncey M. Depew, who arrived last week from New York, that Americans favor home rule for Ireland. Dodge says that "while the politicians are compelled to truckle to the Irish vote, many Americans oppose the policy of separation."

Dodge adds: "I have given what help I could to the Unionist cause in Norwich, and many other Americans were glad of the opportunity to fight home rule."

He Wanted an Investigation.
 SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) July 23.—Col. Jonathan Merriam attempted to introduce in the House today a resolution calling for an investigation of charges of corruption among the members of the General Assembly. He asked that the rules be suspended for the purpose of considering the resolution. The motion was lost.

A Bedouin Attack.
 JEDDAH, July 23.—A mob of 150 Bedouins made a determined attack today on a number of lighters in the harbor. They boarded the vessels and plundered them of the most valuable goods on board. Seven sailors were seriously wounded in defending the lighters.

 Horr Pays His Attention to "Coin."
 Its Misleading Statements are Pointed Out.

Harvey Goes Backward Several Years on the Question of Ratio.

State Convention of Democratic Free Silver Editors at Sedalia—Hoke Smith Tells What He Knows of "Sound Money."

(REGULAR ASSOCIATED PRESS REPORT.)
 CHICAGO, July 23.—The convention of Horr and Harvey over the silver question was resumed this afternoon. Harvey said that the debate of the last session was of value as showing that the past forty years silver had been steadily coined in spite of an assertion to the contrary, and from the report of the mints, the commercial ratio between gold and silver had been maintained at about the French coinage ratio of 15 1/2 to 1 for about two hundred years; that during twenty-two years since 1873, as the result of demonetization, the commercial ratio declined to 32 to 1. For the 33 years prior to 1873, the commercial ratio clung closely to the legal ratio. During all that time the commercial price of silver bullion had remained steady. Since 1873 it had steadily and rapidly decreased. It was the dominating influence of London on exchange to all parts of the world which led to gold being recognized by the world as the standard in all commercial transactions.

Horr, in his opening remarks, proceeded to call attention to what he called misleading statements in Harvey's book. For instance, he declared untrue the statement that it was believed that the cost of producing all the silver in the world was about $2 an ounce, while some put it much higher. Horr pointed out that there had been a vast increase in production at greatly reduced prices. At the cost which Harvey spoke of, silver miners in three years would have lost over $100,000,000. Again, Harvey had put the aggregate amount of silver in the world at $3,000,000,000. It was estimated that there was about $5,000,000,000. Harvey had said that the debts of the United States amounted to $40,000,000,000. That was an absurdity. The statement of the amount of interest which the United States paid annually to Europe was also untrue.

Harvey said that the amount of silver referred to by him in his book was the amount available for coinage. For the rest he proposed to pursue the order of the discussion and answer all the questions that were asked. He then distributed a table showing the production of gold and silver from 1792 to 1892 and proceeded to argue that in spite of wide relative fluctuations in production there had been no fluctuations in the relative value till after the Demonetization Act of 1873. He then proceeded to argue that except in the legal ratio of weight there should be no difference in the treatment of silver and gold.

Horr continued his objections to Harvey's statements in his book. He took up the supposition that the government wanted 100,000 horses, that its competence to argue that except in the legal ratio of weight there should be no difference in the treatment of silver and gold.

HER DAUGHTER TOUCH.
 President Cleveland's Infant Will Set Atlanta Machinery in Motion.
 ATLANTA (Ga.) July 23.—It is said that Baby Marian Cleveland will probably touch the button that will start the machinery at the opening of the Cotton States and International Exposition. The Western Union will run a wire to Gray Gables and another to the exposition grounds here. An operator in Atlanta will give the signal and at the other end, a thousand miles away, a touch of the key will send the current that starts the wheels.

The exposition directors desire that the little "Maid Marian" shall touch the button. If she does not, it will be Mr. or Mrs. Cleveland. Mr. Cleveland was originally invited to come to the opening on September 18. He replied that his engagements would allow him to remain here but a few hours on that day if he should come and proposed to come on October 15, which will be President's day.

A BRUSSELS MOB.
 The King Greeted with Hostile Cries at a Ceremonial.
 BRUSSELS, July 23.—(By Atlantic Cable.) The King today presented a set of colors to the Civic Guard, and large crowds assembled to witness the ceremony. When the colors had been presented and the King was starting for the palace, His Majesty was assailed with cries of "Down with the school law!"

The police arrested ten persons for taking part in this demonstration against the King, and the crowds today determined to rescue the prisoners. Finally the police were compelled to draw their swords and charged the mob, which was eventually dispersed after several other arrests had been made.

Carson's Cut Rates.
 CARSON (Nev.) July 23.—Carson capitalists are considering a plan of offering $25,000 for the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight if it cannot be pulled off in Texas.

any party which proposes to bring such a bill to the floor, it is a source of gratification to Democrats to know, the trouble of 1893 were brought upon the country by the ill-considered legislation of the previous administration. Your representatives at Washington were confronted with many difficulties. No civil crisis has been met since. Let the daily news that factories are again at work, and that 3,000,000 wage-earners have been further increased, let the rise in the value of farm products, tell how they have succeeded.

The McKinley bill has been repealed, the credit of the government has been preserved. Money has been kept sound, and we will go to the country in 1896 with the Democratic party of the future, high in credit, and opposing bad money and assured of success.

DEMOCRATIC EDITORS CONVENTION.
SACRAMENTO, July 23.—The attendance at the Democratic free-silver editors' State convention has met the most sanguine expectations. The editors are here today from every section of the State. This morning a business meeting was held. Col. William F. Switzer of Booneville presided and H. J. Groves of Lexington acted as secretary. Committees on permanent organization and address were appointed. At 11 o'clock, Hon. R. P. Bland delivered an address at Association Park.

After an address by Mayor Haslam, Senator Cockrell spoke on the financial question. He said that the financial issue is simply whether the single standard of gold and silver shall be adopted. He stated that the movement for a single gold standard was started by highly-colored representations made to the international conference in Berlin in 1865 and culminated in the monetary conference of Paris in 1868. On the strength of these misrepresentations of the United States government, the gold standard was pressed their cause until 1873, when they succeeded in carrying their point. Senator Cockrell quoted the Constitution to show that a double standard of gold and silver was the lawful money of the United States. Senator Cockrell quoted statistics as to the production of silver, showing that there has been a steady increase of silver. Referring to the attitude of the administration toward silver he said: "No nation on earth nor all the nations can maintain the parity, equal commercial value of gold and silver, coined into money at any ratio whatever, when they give to gold free and unlimited coinage and deny such coinage to silver, refuse to recognize and treat the silver money as the gold money or to use it equally with gold in paying coin obligations. With equal propriety and assurance you might expect parents to demand that their children maintain them in equal standing, honor and virtue when they recognize and treat one only as honest and virtuous and refuse to recognize the other as other as her equal or to introduce her into society and merely give her lodging room and proclaim her to the world as dishonest, immoral and lascivious."

COKEY GOVERNOR.
CHICAGO, July 23.—A special from Springfield, O., says that Jacob S. Coxey, the commonwealth reformer, will be the Populist nominee for Governor. Chairman Cregar of the Populist State Executive committee, said: "Mr. Coxey is the only man named for nomination." Said he, "Populists with one accord seem to want him for their standard-bearer. Coxey will be nominated by acclamation."

SACRAMENTO, July 23.—This was the second day of the summer meeting of the Pacific Coast Trotting-horse Breeders' Association. The attendance was good, the day delightful, and the track in excellent condition.

The first event on the card was a trot for two-year-olds, purse $300. The entries were Palita, Eureka, Don Roberts and Claudius. Pools sold: Palita, $20; field, $15.

In the first heat the favorite took the lead from the start. She had such a lead at the half that it looked as though all would be shut out. She crossed under the wire in a jog a dozen open lengths in advance of Eureka, the other two whipping in to save their distance.

The second heat was a repetition of the first. Palita was never headed from the score to the finish, and jogged in under the wire in 2:23½, taking the race and first money. Eureka second and second money. The third and fourth money were divided between Don Roberts and Claudius. Pools sold: Palita, $20; field, $15.

The third heat was a repetition of the first. Palita was never headed from the score to the finish, and jogged in under the wire in 2:23½, taking the race and first money. The second heat, the 2:37 trot for $1000, brought out a field of ten fine-looking animals: Bradmore, El Benton, Prince Ira, Native State, Dictator, Prince, Knight, Mariposa, Briar Hill, Charivari and Columbus. Pools sold: Prince Ira, $40; Native State, $35; field, $20.

After several scorings the horses were given a shaggy start. Knight led to the half in 1:08, with Charivari on his heels. The other several lengths to the rear. On the upper turn Prince Ira, El Benton, Native State and Briar Hill went to the front, and it was a pretty race down the back stretch. Briar Hill won out by half a length from El Benton in 2:18½. Prince Ira third, the others close up.

The second heat, Briar Hill led from the score to finish, winning by a length from Native State, El Benton third, Prince Ira fourth; time 2:21½. The third heat pools sold: Briar Hill $20, field $5.

SALT LAKE (Utah), July 23.—A special to the Tribune from Cheyenne, Wyo., says that the first advice of an authentic nature from the scene of the Indian troubles in the Jackson-Hole region reached Gov. Richards today in the shape of a telegram sent by courier from Marysville, Wyo., to Market Lake, Idaho, from Adj. Gen. Stilger of the Governor's staff, who was sent into the region to investigate the troubles between the Indians and the whites.

One message sent Sunday from Marysville is as follows: "The Indians have come in from the mountains report the Indians in force at the junction of Granite Creek and Fall River. All passes into Jackson Hole, available to horses, are guarded by Indians. Capt. Smith has just come in wounded in the right breast by Indians. Other parties are driven in from the mountains. Pickets are guarding the various mountain passes. The Indians are equipped ready for a march and everybody is armed."

A second message sent yesterday by Stilger from the Tejon Basin, near the Idaho-Wyoming line, says: "Arrived here on return trip. Settlers in the basin are uneasy. It is reported here that many Indians from Fort Hall are leaving to join those in the mountains. Indians from other reservations are reported joining them. Settlers and couriers have been sent out by the Jackson-Hole settlers asking for aid and with those who have responded they will go into the mountains to meet the Indians tomorrow. Settlers have given up all hopes of saving crops and are proposing to kill all women and children out of the region."

Gov. Richards states that no movement of State troops into Jackson-Hole country will be ordered until further information is received. He sent word today to Gen. Stilger, who is expected to reach Fort Limon and has the situation as fully as possible on the situation, particularly as to the success being met by the Indian police in the Jackson-Hole country, to return to their reservation.

WILL "SEE" THE WHITES.
POCATELLO (Idaho), July 23.—At the Bannock (Idaho) July 23, thirteen miles north of here, those in authority do not believe that the trouble in the Jackson-Hole country is a serious one. A final settlement now without more bloodshed. Almost every able-bodied Bannock has decamped for the scene of the trouble.

From the most-trusted police it is learned that many Indians who are apparently returning to their homes have been sent out by the Jackson-Hole settlers asking for aid and with those who have responded they will go into the mountains to meet the Indians tomorrow. Settlers have given up all hopes of saving crops and are proposing to kill all women and children out of the region."

geles, when asked today by a Times reporter what effect the heavy trading nia crop, replied: "Very little. It is a speculative movement; the mills, as the crop prospects. Bradstreet's reported that the corn harvest is 10 to 15% below last week ago, but prospects are overshadowed by the fact that the weather is so much better. Oats were comparatively steady early but toward the close declined with wheat. September corn closed at 23 1/2¢. Provisions were not so much they gained yesterday. At the close of the following were the bases: Pork, 43 1/2¢; lard, 10 1/2¢; beef, 10 1/2¢.

A DYING ISSUE.

The Hor-Harvey debate at Chicago is not attracting the attention its promoters supposed it would attract. This is not because of any weakness in the debate on either side. Both men have made a strong presentation of the case from their respective points of view. But interest in the free-silver discussion all over the country is dying out. People have been led to study the question closely, and such study has not been favorable to the unlimited coinage idea. The efforts of the free-silver extremists to keep the issue alive have been unavailing, though they have shown with a persistence worthy of a better cause. The hollow pretensions and shallow sophistries of the 16-to-1 advocates have been effectively exposed since the discussion was started in earnest several months ago, and public sentiment has greatly changed in consequence. It is altogether probable that were a vote of the people of the United States to be taken today, with the currency question as the issue, an overwhelming vote would be recorded in favor of the sound and practical policy set forth in the national Republican platform of 1892. That policy would be a guaranty of the soundness of our currency, and of the use of so much silver as is consistent with easy stability.

The tendency toward a revival of industry is also a factor not to be lost sight of in connection with the decline of interest in the free-coinage question. The free-silver extremists placed great reliance upon the "hard times" brought about by the advent of the free-trade party to power. They depended upon the calamity era to add their cause. Like the Populists, their numbers dwindle in proportion to the increase of prosperity. Men who are busy have no time to talk calamity.

Barring some defects, which may easily be remedied by intelligent action on the part of Congress, our present monetary system is a very good system indeed. We have as near an approximation to bimetallicism, probably, as is possible under present conditions. We use silver almost as extensively as gold in our currency. It is possible to hold a limited quantity of silver up to a parity with gold, and that is what we are doing. To attempt to hold the silver of the world up to the value of gold, on a 16-to-1 basis, would be to invite disaster, and, virtually, to invite it.

The people understand these things better than formerly. Most of them are very well satisfied with our currency as it is, and are not disposed to be led off on a wild-goose chase for hypothetical benefits. They are aware, also, that full bimetallicism can be realized only by international agreement, and that that will come in time, because the leading nations will find it to their interest to bring it about. Thoughtful people realize, moreover, that for the United States to attempt, single-handed, the full restoration of silver, would be both foolish and futile. So far as silver has been demonetized it has been demonetized by the leading nations, not by one nation alone. It can be restored only by joint action of the leading nations.

Chicago is discussing a proposition to reproduce, in white marble, for the Lake Front Park, the Court of Honor which was so much admired at the World's Fair. The estimated cost of the work is $10,000,000. But this is a mere bagatelle to Chicago, when once she makes up her mind to do a thing. It cannot be denied, that, if the plan be carried out, Chicago will have built a magnificent and enduring monument to her own greatness.

The manner in which those "markets of the world" were captured by the Democratic policy of free trade is plainly indicated by an official statement from the Treasury Department of our imports and exports for the fiscal year just closed. This report shows that while our imports of foreign goods increased $94,185,302 during the year, our exports decreased $54,314,448. Thus was the American producer injured in two ways. His

LETTERS TO THE TIMES.

Grape Fruit and Kindred Varieties.
SANTA ANA, July 20, 1892.—(To the Editor of The Times) Much confusion is caused by the way the grape fruit is called of fruits by those ignorant of their true names.

The so-called "grape-fruit" is in reality the true shaddock (citrus decumana), named from Capt. Shaddock, who brought it from China to Jamaica. He was commander of the ship, and the crew of which mutilated and landed on Pitcairn Island, where their descendants remain to this day. As this particular error has crept into so excellent a work as the Standard Dictionary, it occurs to me that it would be well, if possible, to prevent its further spread.

The shaddock received the name of grape-fruit in Florida, and for the following reasons: The only thing in that part of a grape that will flourish in that part of the country is the "scuppernon," a variety of that odd species of "Vitis, the rotundifolia. This does not produce its fruit in the shape of a bunch, but in the shape of a long, slender, and in some of the orchards of Orange county.

The huge, pale-yellow, knotted fruit, mentioned in a recent item in The Times, and therein called "shaddock," is no doubt the Pomelo, which, and not the shaddock, is a "bitter." The only use for this latter, as far as I know, is to furnish an extract used by the Jews in one of their religious ceremonies.

More Street Paving.
LOS ANGELES, July 21, 1892.—(To the Editor of The Times) A letter appeared in your columns a day or two ago, signed "Hit-You-Men," in which the writer registered a very timely kick upon the disgraceful condition of the paved streets of Los Angeles.

Present indications are that the Durant trial at San Francisco will be one of the most closely-contested legal battles ever fought in California. Attorneys on both sides express themselves as confident, and every point will be contested, inch by inch. It may be two or three months before the trial is ended.

The officials of Lehigh, Pa., think they have solved the tramp problem. They require each tramp arrested to carry pig-iron from one part of the jail-yard to the other. The wandering fraternity in and about Lehigh, Pa., have made themselves extremely scarce since the order went into effect.

The production is in the interest of the G.A.R. monument fund and the members of that organization, as well as the ladies of the Relief Corps report a fine advance sale.

THE "OLD GUARD."

"A Bright Newspaper's Growth."
(San Francisco Chronicle, Jan. 21.)

The Los Angeles Times on Sunday, July 14, signalled the installing of a large new perfecting press by issuing a twenty-eight-page paper, containing a full description of the fine addition to its mechanical plant. The press prints folds and counts 24,000 twelve-page papers per hour, or 12,000 twenty-four pages per hour. With its two large presses and its ten type-setting machines, The Times is in a position to meet any demands that may be made upon it.

This large issue reflects great credit on Col. H. G. Otis, the proprietor and editor, who has improved the paper so greatly in the last three or four years. He has made it one of the best newspapers on this Coast—bright, new and admirably edited and printed.

It is true a modicum of the ranting, anxious-to-see-kind would still be abroad in the land; but with these, let us exercise a little patience. After a century of the way the world has been run, Prof. Jordan's foolkiller, and the earth shall know them no more.

Some Golden Facts About Silver.

RIALTO (Cal.), July 22.—(To the Editor of The Times) The assumption of Mr. Harvey in the debate with R. G. Horst, that the majority of the Congressmen in the United States Congress, in 1873, were dishonest, humiliatingly stupid, presupposes that their constituents were either dishonest or deplorably ignorant, as manifested in the selection of their representatives. Admitting for the sake of the argument that Harvey is correct in his assumptions, the late attempt of his coadjutors, the reform Populists, one of their basic principles being predicated on the "crime of 1873," has demonstrated to the observing and thinking portion of mankind that the Populists are making a worse; that if their reform was the cure, the remedy was far more fatal than the disease. Never, perhaps, in the history of the United States, in so short a time has there been developed such corruption as was made manifest by that organization of so-called reformers in Kansas.

It is related that a bandit chief punished and tortured those whom he captured by binding them to iron bedsteads of a certain length, a 16-to-1 standard, I presume. If his victim proved to be just the length of the bedstead it was in his favor; he was allowed to go free. If he was too short, he was stretched to the required length; if too long, he was cut off to fit the inexorable bedstead.

I think it will be found that most of the facts about the 16-to-1 craze will be either too short or too long and that but few will be just the exact length. The truth is, that the logic of nature, the facts of history and the laws of commerce are all sought to be stretched or shortened by these deluded sky-scrapers to fit their 16-to-1 bedstead.

JUDGE ROSS'S DECISION.

IT IS THE SUBJECT OF MUCH GENERAL COMMENT.

Friends of the Wright Plan and Attorneys for Bondholders Take Optimistic Views—Small Hope for a Reversal in a Higher Court.

The decision of Judge Ross against the validity of the Wright irrigation act continued to be much talked about yesterday. It was stated by parties familiar with the subject that in the cases of irrigation districts which have been in operation for some time the probable effect would not be to stop irrigation or stop the irrigation enterprises of those districts.

They expected some improvements were contemplated but had not yet been made the result of the decision would probably be to stop work for an indefinite time.

R. Lander and W. P. Ratliff, both of whom were in the city yesterday, were in the city yesterday. They were both interested in irrigation enterprises. They said that the irrigation districts in their locality are at present in such shape that with the exception of the Kern and Tulare district they will probably continue to be operated as they have been. In that district bonds were voted several months ago, but by reason of some of the proceedings the securing of which had been printed were destroyed. Further bond proceedings in that district have been delayed pending the decision of the federal court in the United States Supreme Court.

A dispatch from Redlands says that one result of Judge Ross's decision will probably be to free the Bear Valley Irrigation Company from its contracts for furnishing water to the Perris and Alessandro districts. It will be understood that the company above mentioned is a corporation which is organized for the purpose of supplying water for irrigation, but which is in no way connected with the irrigation districts. It is said that the company will be required to supply water as it has been doing, provided the pay for the water is forthcoming.

IN A NUTSHELL.
Hon. Stephen M. White was visited at his office yesterday by a Times reporter, and asked:

"What are you interested in the irrigation district decision of Judge Ross?"

"No, sir; not at all," was the Senator's reply.

"Would you have any opinion on it?"

"No, sir; I'm not the United States Supreme Court."

"Well," persisted the reporter, "have you any personal opinion as to the result of the decision?"

"Oh, if decision is sustained the bonds are no good and if the decision is not sustained they are good, that's all."

HOW STRIKES REDLANDS.
REDLANDS, July 22.—(Special Dispatch.) The annulling of the Wright Irrigation Law by Judge Ross is not looked upon by some in this section as entirely an unmitigated evil, though it took everybody by surprise, and today is the cardinal topic of conversation here. It will be seen that Redlands directly. It is understood that several thousand dollars worth of Alessandro Irrigation District bonds were bought with Redlands capital, but that will affect but a few individuals.

ANOTHER DISPATCH.
REDLANDS, July 22.—One effect of the decision of Judge Ross touching irrigation districts, will probably be to free the Bear Valley Company from its contracts with the Perris and Alessandro districts, which have proven a serious obstacle to the reorganization of the company, and which would have required over $700,000 to be paid on the plan to fill the contracts. The local opinion is that if the districts are null, the contracts are all without standing in law.

IN SAN DIEGO.
SAN DIEGO, July 22.—(Special Dispatch.) The declaration of the unconstitutionality of the Wright Irrigation Act causes intense concern among thousands of people in this county because of its promise to retard many needed irrigation enterprises. The Escondido Irrigation District has already begun its irrigation system under this law, but the owners of the $300,000 bonds of the system will be in a quandary as to "where they are at" until the Supreme Court shall define the status of the bonds. What concerns the city particularly is the effect of the decision on the future of the Linda Vista Irrigation District. The decision is adjudged to the city limits. Recently contracted with the Mountain Stream Water Company for an irrigation system, and now under construction, is one of the prime objects of this water company in undertaking the contract was to secure for its parent company—the Fume Company—now under construction, a water—additional water rights and reservoir sites, for the purpose of making the city water supply impregnable.

THE WRIGHT ACT.
The decision of Judge Ross in the case brought to test the constitutionality of the Wright act, printed in full in The Times of yesterday, is attracting widespread attention, not only in California, to which it especially applies, but throughout the arid West. There is no law covering similar grounds in any other Western State, but the Wright act has been made the basis of preliminary bills about to be introduced in several Western legislatures.

The decision printed yesterday is broad and sweeping in its terms, and clearly wipes out entire sections of the law, so far as can now be judged, all the districts organized under it, together with all contracts of whatever kind or nature the officers of these districts may have made. The decision does all this, provided Judge Ross is sustained by the Supreme Court of the United States, to which the case decided will undoubtedly be promptly appealed.

Judge Ross has based his decision plainly on the one point that a protesting land-owner, who has an irrigation district against his will, has an opportunity of being heard as to the legality of its formation. The court holds that this omission is fatal, although the Supreme Court of California, and several Superior courts of this State, have held directly contrary views. What the Supreme Court of the United States will do is problematical.

The Wright act, as originally passed in 1887 by the Legislature of California, gave absolutely no protection to the individual land-owner who did not want to buy water with which to irrigate his land, as it provided that any body of five electors and land-owners, who were shown "to be land-owners by the last assessment roll of the county in which they resided," could petition for the formation of an irrigation district, and the Board of Supervisors of that county was compelled to go ahead and declare such district formed, subject to the approval of two-thirds of the legal voters in the territory described. But no one was authorized to go before the Board of Supervisors and show that the petition was fraudulent, or to question the legality of the signatures to the petition. One-half of them might not be in existence, as a matter of fact, but the direction of the law was mandatory, and the Supervisors were bound to proceed as directed. In 1889 this weakness of the law was attempted to be remedied by the passage of an amendment which provided that the board of directors of any irrigation district could commence proceedings in the Superior Court of the county in which the lands are situated, and any person feeling aggrieved at the organization of the district could go before this court and make a showing of fraud, if any existed, or set up any other defense he might choose to make. It was further provided by this amendment that after such a special suit, brought by a board of directors and passed on favorably to the district by the court, no proceedings would be taken which attempted to question the validity of the organization of the district. This amendment was reviewed by the Supreme Court of the State, and was held to be sufficient and satisfactory. But Judge Ross points out that this suit can be brought only on motion of the board of directors, and if they refuse to do so the land-owner who is in the district against his will, is powerless to plead his rights. And the decision declaring the Wright act unconstitutional is mainly on this point.

Considerable error exists as to the amount of stock in the district. The bonds issued in this decision as to bonds issued and sold. The Times of yesterday printed what is practically a complete list of all the districts now in existence in this State. From that list it will be seen that the total amount of bonds issued is less than $200,000, and it is not $500,000 to $700,000, as is erroneously stated. The amount of bonds issued, a trifle over $150,000 have been sold, and some $350,000 are in the hands of districts awaiting a decision of the board of directors. Such bonds before being placed on the market. Of the bonds sold some $70,000 were issued in Southern California, and about $80,000 in Central California. The generally-supposed idea that this decision affects any of the leading water systems in Southern California is erroneous. The peace, however, in fruit-growing centers as Riverside, Redlands, Santa Ana, Ontario, Pasadena and Pomona, are not affected at all, because a water system is based on an entirely different plan. Bear Valley can only be affected favorably by this decision, as its ultimate effect will be to free the company from a number of unprofitable contracts which it made to supply water to outlying districts.

What the effect will be on the bondholders is as yet an unknown quantity. Should the decision of Judge Ross be sustained by the court of last resort, and on this point the best attorneys in the State are divided, they will undoubtedly be adjudged to have a lien at least upon the water rights purchased by the district. If not upon the lands on which these waters have been placed.

The decision of Judge Ross is so sweeping in its nature that it cannot but affect the standing of California credit for some little time to come, and many purchasers of other forms of credit, such as bonds, will be apt to look askance at them, even though they have the seal of our State Legislature upon them, backed by a favorable opinion from the California Supreme Court.

An Old Man's Troubles.
The complaint against Frank Morris, an aged expressman, who was arrested for disturbing the peace, has been dismissed. Morris was trying to move a small house from a lot which he had deeded to some of his kinsfolks, when the minions of the law pounced upon him. The old man, who has been badly treated by his relatives, who practically drove him out of house and home after he had greatly benefited them, is liable to grow out of the trouble.

To cook them in their jackets they retain the potash, as the cost does not burn until the potato is nearly done.

The Times

ALL ALONG THE LINE.

Phoenix, Ariz., has now four daily newspapers. Phoenix is doing well and it is hoped the newspapers are.

The shipments of oranges this season from Riverside now amount to 2718 carloads with several shipments yet to go forward.

Santa Barbara is preparing to entertain many visitors July 27-31 inclusive, the dates of the Southern Pacific special excursions. The Channel City always entertains royally, and a good time may be expected by all who will avail themselves of the opportunity.

If the Councilmen really believe that there are too many fish in Westlake they might hold regular sessions on its grassy banks and discuss the city's wealth while handling the little fishing rods and casting the squirming worm. As there are so many fish the quantity of "bait" necessary might be too great to conform with strict ideas of temperance.

Orange county is essentially a land of milk even if it does not yet claim to be one of honey. Reports from there are that three prominent firms are fighting among themselves as to which shall have the right to construct the new creamery which it is proposed to construct in that county. Bountiful indeed is the land where contractors fight among themselves for the privilege of milking it!

A petition for a new elevator in the Courthouse went to the Board of Supervisors yesterday with about six hundred names attached. It is to be hoped that the honorable board will see its way clear towards removing the old dry goods box which looms at a snail's pace up and down the shaft, and in placing it at an early date with a modern machine more suitable for the principal building in the city.

The decision of Judge Ross of the illegality of the Wright irrigation law is an "astonisher," as the Times' San Bernardino correspondent writes, to the dwellers of that locality. San Bernardino county, in its several districts, has issued bonds under that act to the amount of over $1,500,000, and the citizens of those districts are considerably exercised over the possible outcome of Judge Ross's decision.

The business department of The Times of this morning contains a statement showing the enormous increase in fruit shipments from California to the East during the last nine years. The figures are practically 100 carloads in 1886 and 19,000 carloads in 1894. As pointed out, it will be a satisfaction to Southern California fruit-growers to know that over one-half of the enormous quantity shipped was grown in and sent from Southern California.

Just because the orange trees on the lot owned by the Central Baptist Church of Redlands dried for want of water, and were ultimately hewn down, the good citizens of that place laugh about it and think it's funny. They evidently have forgotten the saying that "everybody has his price," and that water under the domestic system in Redlands, so far as dollars and cents are concerned, is no respecter of denominations.

The task of so regulating the police force of the city as to produce approximately perfect results is not a light one. Remissness in the performance of duty by officers may be expected occasionally, yet it is doubtful if the minimum is reached by the present administration. The complaint now pending against a mounted officer, following upon the heels of the charges preferred and proved against other officers calls for a salutary punishment which shall serve as an example.

Congratulations are in order upon the happy termination of the threatened difficulty between the city and J. A. Bullard. The prospect of extensive and expensive litigation over the right of Mr. Bullard to the disputed portion of the old courthouse site was not a pleasant one. As it is, Mr. Bullard will retain the land, the city will maintain its dignity and the property-owners are happy in the prospect of the speedy completion of the splendid building in their midst.

Business is more slack in all the courts during the last six months than has been known for years, the call order being about one-third its usual length. This is, of course, a good sign, according to the view taken. The hard times and general financial depression have shortened the funds of most people to such an extent that a compromise outside the courts seems to appeal to them more than a course of expensive litigation; but then, again, a more reasonable and moderate way of looking at the various little difficulties which present the path of the unwary may be obtaining ground in this connection.

AVALON (Catalina Island), July 23.—(By Homing-pigeon Service to The Times.) The Hermosa brought eighty passengers to the island last night, of whom the following registered at the Metropole: G. E. Shuey of Oakland, W. J. Dickey of Fresno, Thomas S. Derby of San Jose, Frank S. Kelly of San Francisco, H. A. Elnke of Carrollton, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Botzford, C. Laux, J. C. Toplin of Los Angeles.

At the island Villa a large party of Pasadena registered, including Mr. and Mrs. John P. Tyson, May and Fred Buchanan, Allen and Ruby Reed, Mrs. S. H. and Mrs. E. Weinberg.

Miss A. M. Houston of Pomona, Mrs. M. K. Harris of Azusa, G. D. Wright of Los Angeles, are also guests at the Villa.

UNDER THE CANYAS. "Camp Rough It" is occupied by Maj. J. A. Donnell's family. The present guests installed are Misses Mae Brown, Ethel Osborn and Mr. and Mrs. Partidge and family. The camp consists of three tents all comfortably furnished and illuminated at night by Japanese lanterns. The party are more than pleased with Catalina's sports, and will stay about six weeks.

Mrs. C. O. Adams, R. Hubbard, Miss Hattie Hubbard, and Milton Adams of Los Angeles, are comfortably situated in their tent near the old ranch house. Mrs. Seaver and daughter and Mrs. Russell are another Los Angeles party located in one of the McDonnell cottages.

Melville Doster, Jr., of Los Angeles, a student at the State University at Berkeley, is spending his vacation at Avalon with three of his friends, C. E. Edwards, Charles Westlake and Claude Hyde. The quartette are camping out, and roughing it in good old Catalina style. They find the swimming and rowing up to its usual high standard, while fishing and hunting is better than anything they have ever experienced. Yesterday they had a noble goat. Yesterday they tried their luck fishing and without going outside the bay, pulled in thirty-two large mackerel inside of two hours.

Mr. Doster will spend another week on the island before returning to Los Angeles to prepare for his second year at college, leaving for Berkeley about August 11.

IN SPORTING CIRCLES. J. Neale Plumb, in spite of the absence of his mascot, landed eight noble yellowtails yesterday.

The following concise and self-explanatory note was received by The Times correspondent by special delivery from Little Harbor last evening, dispatched by the noble quartette of sportsmen, Messrs. Beard, D. Millbank Johnson, Gail Borden and Mr. O'Fallon, whom it will be remembered departed for that place on a fishing excursion last Saturday.

Fishing is very poor; nothing caught so far but several sharks and sting-rays. Mr. O'Fallon went hunting yesterday, and in three hours killed a fox and a William goat weighing 250 pounds.

"PISCATORIAL MANIACS." PERSONAL POINTERS.

Mrs. Crouch and her charming daughter, Miss Bertha Crouch, who, by the way, is one of the most popular girls who have visited Catalina this season, leave for their home in Oakland tomorrow morning, to the regret of a large circle of friends. The flight of the pigeons was this afternoon photographed by Waite, Miss Crouch liberating with her own fair hands her namesake who bled fox and a William goat weighing 250 pounds.

W. L. Judson, formerly professor of anatomy in the Los Angeles School of Art and Design, is here for the season, and has formed a sketching class who go out daily to sketch the many picturesque points which abound on the island.

Phil Wilson of Los Angeles, but late of Santa Clara College, swam from Avalon to one-half mile beyond the bluff at the east end of Pebble Beach in 15 min. J. A. Murieta was his swimming mate to Pebble Beach, which was accomplished in 50m.

STAMP-CANCELLING MACHINE. Their Use Abandoned by Orders of the Department.

The use of the stamp-cancelling machine in the postoffice has been abandoned by order of the Postoffice Department. No reason was given in the order for such instructions being issued, but it has been learned that like orders have been issued to the heads of postoffices at San Francisco and other places. The machine has not yet been removed from the postoffice in this city, but it is thought the reason for ordering discontinuance is that the concern which rents the machines to the government has been charging a higher rental than the officials of the Postoffice Department think should be paid.

The machine, it will be understood, is run by an electric motor, and is so constructed that it will cancel the postage stamps on letters run through it, each stamp being printed with lines of ink. With the machine one man can cancel the stamps on nearly as many letters as can three men by the hand-stamping process.

TO SANTA BARBARA AND RETURN $2.50. Mid-summer excursion of Southern Pacific Saturday, July 27. Tickets good returning within thirty days. Trains leave Arcade Depot 5 a.m., 10 a.m., 3 p.m., Pasadena 5 a.m.

A Home Wanted. If you have a buyer for three, four or five-room house on monthly payments, with cash payment, Pico, Boyle Heights or north of Cahuenga, a mounted officer, following upon the heels of the charges preferred and proved against other officers calls for a salutary punishment which shall serve as an example.

QUANTITIES OF FISH.

Carp are multiplying too rapidly at Westlake Park.

Any quantity of fish waiting to be caught, and right in the city, too! Westlake Park has for some time been considered a fine place for boating and other diversions, but perhaps it is not generally known that it is not only stocked, but is in fact overstocked with fish.

The muddy condition of the water has attracted some attention, and it has been supposed that this condition was due to collections of fish and to a lack of proper flow of water through the lake. It is stated, however, that a full head of water is kept running into the lake during the night and a like stream is kept running out during the day.

The real cause of the muddy condition above referred to is said to be due to the presence in the lake of great quantities of carp. These fish multiply rapidly and are inclined to poke about in the mud at the bottom of the lake, and the muddy condition of the water is assigned to this fact.

A bad odor has been observed about the lake, just at night after the sea breeze has ceased and before the land breeze has started. This odor has been thought to be caused by the fish, but it is said it may be due to some other reason.

Notwithstanding there are great quantities of fish caught by people visiting the park they are multiplying rapidly, and it is claimed, will need attention from the authorities within a short time.

It is expected that a proposition will be submitted to the Park Commission in the near future to remove the carp from the lake. This, it is explained, can be done by drawing off the water down to a low level and then taking the fish out with a seine. The bass that are in the lake can, when found, be put into a barrel of water and kept till the lake can be refilled. The bass do not multiply nearly as rapidly as do the carp, and will not increase in lake in such quantities as to cause trouble.

It has been urged that when the water of the lake is drawn off the bottom of the lake should be thoroughly cleaned. This has not been done in a long time, and it is thought, would give the water a much cleaner appearance.

Police Need Telephones.

Attention has been called a number of times to the fact that the police department is seriously handicapped by the lack of public telephones. The officers on duty near First and Los Angeles streets have to make numerous calls to the police station for the patrol wagon, and in order to do so have to depend on the courtesy of private parties for the use of the speaking instruments.

The officers on duty in Chinatown as well as in a number of other parts of the city are seriously handicapped in the same manner. It is expected that in the near future a plan will be proposed to have at some of the places most needed combination iron boxes, which can be used for fire-alarm and also for police patrol-calls.

CHAUTAUQUA ASSEMBLY.

STUDENTS AT LONG BEACH ARE REALLY IN EARNEST.

Exploring Dead Man's Island—A Talk on Woman's Suffrage—President Jordan of Stanford University Made an Address—Today's Programme.

LONG BEACH, July 23.—(Special Correspondence.) If any one doubts that the students of natural science at Chautauqua are really in earnest, he should have stood at the north end of the wharf between 3 and 3:30 o'clock a.m. today and watched black figures gathering in the darkness from every direction, except seaward, to board a Terminal train which stood there, with engines pointed westward puffing out its astonishment at this unusual proceeding on the part of Long Beach people. The Times reporter had crawled out of a comfortable bed at 3 o'clock to see if it would come true. It was Prof. Cook's excursion to Dead Man's Island to find sea treasures. There were one hundred and nine people in the company, all of whom had crept out into the early morning darkness to capture the beach while old ocean was out. Sea devils, with their ugly arms, beautiful sea flowers, and none, veritable microwbers, as Prof. Cook observed, waiting in rocky nooks for "something to turn up," sea cucumbers and olives, snapping crabs, and hosts of other astonished denizens of the shallow deep came home with the company on the regular 7 o'clock Terminal train. Prof. Cook of Pomona College, Miss Shepard, Mrs. Cushing, Prof. Phillip of University of Southern California and others gave valuable information concerning finds. The party went to the island to do his duty by gazing sadly at the lonely grave of the British captain, whose crew laid him away up there with the rest of the naturalists could not resist the attractions of the place and remained till a later train. The Bible-readings at 8 a.m., conducted by Dr. Frothingham, were of great interest and crowds went their way up to the Tabernacle at that early hour to listen to the learned doctor discuss the letters to the Romans. The subject for tomorrow morning will be divine healing, as taught in this epistle.

Miss Bell's class in china decorative art is as interesting and as interested as ever. New pupils are added to the class daily. The work finished by pupils is very beautiful, and in design and execution is surprisingly good. As the painted china is also fired, and in every way, finished, the students will have some very practical results to take away with them.

Miss Murphy continues to enroll pupils in her already very large elocution classes. More than twenty-five are now engaged in there with the most practical things about voice culture and expression, and her juvenile class in reading is large.

At 2:30 o'clock Mrs. Alice Moore Comas, the president of the Los Angeles Woman's Suffrage Association, addressed the assembly on the subject, "Is the Family the Basis of the State?" Her argument was clear and logical, and in view of coming issues on the great question of equal suffrage.

At 4 o'clock President Jordan, who conducted the Round Table. The subject under discussion was, "How May We Double our Number of Readers in Chautauqua Work?" This question was of great interest, as much work is to be done shortly in the systematic organization of circles throughout Southern California.

The great amateur prize concert took place at 2 o'clock sharp tomorrow; each singer makes one selection and Prof. Cornell chooses one. A corps of five judges will decide the merits of the singers, and award the prizes. There are $100 to be divided among the singers. A first and a second prize for each soprano, alto, basses and tenor.

The chorus class under the direction of Prof. Cornell has grown to large proportions under his direction, and the excellent piano execution of Edmund Earle, and is about ready to produce something very fine for Thursday evening. The rehearsals of the chorus are vigorous and much enjoyed by many visitors.

Prof. Elmer E. Brown, head of the department of pedagogy, State University, delivered his lecture at 3 o'clock this afternoon on "Three Great Teachers." He opened the lecture by giving an account of Athens in the days of Pericles, and drew a picture of the character of the Athenian people of that age, regarding them as the foremost of the ancient Greeks. Of all this line of freedom-loving and duty-loving Greeks Socrates was the greatest, and Socrates was the ugliest of them all. He joked with his friends about his own ugliness and they loved him all the better for it. He was one of the best-loved and best-hated men that ever lived. The Oracle at Delphi said no other man lived among the Greeks. He spent his life questioning the wise and common men of Athens to know if the oracle spoke true. He found he was the wisest of them all, because he knew what he knew, and knew his own ignorance. There was much excuse for his wife, Xantippe, and at this safe distance we may be thankful she had that sharp tongue, for it resulted in giving us a choice passage in Greek literature, in which Socrates admonishes his son to love and honor his mother in spite of the scoldings.

Socrates questioned men for the sake of making them wise than to test the Oracle. He found the greatest obstruction to wisdom was the conceit of knowledge, not the lack of it. He showed his own statements, and showed them plainly their own foolishness. Some were led by this course to seek wisdom and others to hate Socrates. It was to Socrates that the key to the door of wisdom was given. He was the wisest of men, and he was the ugliest of men.

Both Sides Free Their Minds with Great Candor.

Miss Whitney was teacher of French in the High School. She was replaced by Rabbi Blum. Miss Whitney wants to get back. Mr. Blum wants to stay. Such is the state of affairs at the present moment, and the supporters of each side are overflowing with information on the subject. Now this is a position in which both sides have had a perfectly impartial hearing.

Rabbi Abraham Blum spoke to this effect: "Why really, there is nothing to discuss. I have signed my application, along with three other people, and I was elected. I have signed my contract and things are all settled. I am sorry Miss Whitney began to quarrel and want to devote all my time to education. I am fully competent to teach. I was born and educated in France and taught the French language for thirty years. I have translated several books from French into English. I have published in Paris, and here is a book I wrote for use in French schools." And Mr. Blum produced the books and all the documents to prove his statements, copyrights and testimonials, and musty old legal documents from French municipal officers.

she clung to him to the last and was his most helpful friend through her life. Pestalozzi began with the belief that he could best advance the condition of the poor by improving the farming industry, but he soon discovered that it was of no use to make people richer unless at the same time he made them better and wiser, so he combined education with agriculture and finally devoted himself to education alone.

The remainder of his career as an educational reformer was described, and also his experiments at Stanz, Burgdorf and Yverdon. The two characteristics of his teaching are: First, the attempt to make men more intelligent by the exercise of their senses on concrete material of knowledge, instead of cramming them with words; and, second, by reaching the sphere of moral conduct in the emotions of the heart.

He sought to make men better by making them more sympathetic, and his pupils received an effective object lesson in the art of self-sacrifice for others. Before he died his ideas had taken strong hold upon kings and philosophers, as well as educators. His influence spread over Germany, France, England and America. The better influence that flowed from the French revolution worked slowly upon the English mind, but in the thirties and forties of the present century there was a great awakening in England. At this time the greatest of English schoolmasters, Thomas Arnold, did his work. Socrates was fat and ugly, but Thomas Arnold was one of the handsomest men in all the schools of England. Socrates was teacher of men and Pestalozzi of little children, but Thomas Arnold was a teacher of grown boys. In the most troublesome period of their lives, he thought and felt and played with them. He sought to make his boys moral by making them self-respecting.

He made it possible for the greatest boys' book of the century to be written by a schoolmaster. He was a man profoundly devoted to the highest interests of the church and those of the state. To him the interests of the church and state were one. Men said that a man who might have been Prime Minister of England should waste his life on the teaching of boys; but no Prime Minister of his age has had more uplifting or more enduring effect on English thought and life than he. It is eminently desirable in these days when California is just awakening to the great system of secondary education that the example of this great high-school teacher should be held up for the intelligent imitation of all.

Prof. Frothingham's lecture gave a short sketch of what he termed the teacher who is to be. He will be familiar with the history of education and will stand, as it were, upon the shoulders of the great educators of the past.

President David Starr Jordan had a large audience at 8 o'clock tonight to hear his great lecture on "An Immense Company." His lecture tomorrow evening is "The Ascent of the Matterhorn."

Prof. Cook's class in entomology now meet at 9 o'clock a.m. and continue till noon, taking the last half-hour for field work. At 4 o'clock Prof. Cook's entomology is held, and great interest is manifested.

Prof. McClatchie meets his biology class from 10 to 12 each day.

CHANGED PLANS.

THE INSPECTION TRIP OF SANTA FE DIRECTORS CUT SHORT.

Death of B. P. Cheney, Sr., a Large Owner of the Santa Fe—Great Consolidation of Street Railroad Lines—The Covina Line.

B. P. Cheney, Jr., and Charles S. Gleed, directors of the Santa Fe system, left this city yesterday by private car on the Sunset route, intending to go to the City of Mexico. Shortly after they started word was received from Boston stating that B. P. Cheney, Sr., father of Mr. Cheney, had died in London. On receipt of the information arrangements were made so that the car could be cut off from the Southern Pacific train at Colton. A little later the car was started east on the Santa Fe by special engine to make a rapid run across the continent.

DIED IN LONDON.

LONDON, July 23.—B. P. Cheney died this morning. He was largely interested in the acquisition of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, Northern Pacific railways and numerous other corporations.

STREET RAILROAD CONSOLIDATION.

CHICAGO, July 23.—A dispatch from Philadelphia says that a great street railroad consolidation scheme, representing more than $40,000,000, has been under consideration for some time past, and is now practically complete. The companies interested are the Philadelphia, the People's and the Electric Traction companies and the Weston, Mantua and Fairmount street railroad companies. The matter has been referred to a committee, who will draw up contracts and agreements for the biggest street railway combination ever perfected in this country. It is expected that millions of dollars will be saved by the new deal. High-priced management will be dispensed with and competition prevented, while the interest of the roads will be materially reduced.

SCRAP HEAP.

The ticket brokers will have a meeting at the Hollenbeck this evening. A party of about twenty-five people left for Chicago yesterday by Phillips & Co.'s excursion.

The Burlington excursion which arrived yesterday from the East had twenty-six passengers for California.

The graders on the Covina branch of the Southern Pacific will probably reach a point east of Covina this week. A dispatch from St. Paul says that President Hill of the Great Northern has gone to New York to resume negotiations to secure control of the Northern Pacific.

The City Guard Band of San Diego will give concerts at Redondo Saturday at 3 p.m., and Sunday at 1:30 p.m., by Leroy, the conservatory. Special excursion rates have been announced.

GOVERNMENT WEATHER MAPS.

To be issued hereafter from the Los Angeles Office.

Weather Observer Franklin has received instructions from the chief of the Weather Bureau, directing him to publish an edition of the daily weather map in place of the daily bulletins now issued in the mornings.

These maps for the Pacific Coast region have been supplied to people in this neighborhood from San Francisco, but, owing to the numerous requests for maps and the delay necessary in sending them here, it has been decided to have them issued from the Los Angeles office. These maps are stated to be object lessons in practical meteorology and with the aid of the "Explanation of the Weather Map," which will be furnished with the first issue of the map and an observance of the local conditions, quite accurate forecasts of the weather changes, it is stated, can be made.

The first issue of the map is announced to be tomorrow morning. They are furnished for the use of the public generally and persons receiving them are expected to post them where they will be of general use.

The maps will be issued each morning and will be based on reports of observations up to 5 a.m. Pacific Coast time. The maps will be drawn from data received by telegraph and will be reproduced by a mimeograph process.

A QUEER STORY.

Failure to Find a Legacy in Los Angeles.

Word has been received in this city of the death of Dr. Allan Norton Leet at Scranton, Pa.

Dr. Leet, who is an ex-newspaper man, attained some notoriety a number of months ago by visiting Los Angeles for the purpose of investigating a story which he claimed to believe, to the effect that a fortune of $50,000 had been left him by a certain H. B. Carey, whom he declared lived in this city. The legacy, Dr. Leet announced, was a great wealth in payment of a loan of $500 to Carey when both men resided in Newark, N. J., thirty years ago.

Dr. Leet died suddenly in Scranton, on June 11, and his executor telegraphed to Wells & Lee, a local law firm, regarding the matter. Subsequent correspondence showed the whole affair to be a forgery, and that no such estate was on record in Los Angeles.

The son and widow of Dr. Leet, however, do not believe the fortune to be mythical, and they say they will make further investigations.

HOFFMAN HOUSE, NEW YORK, April 1, 1904.

To the Imperial Chemical Mfg. Co.: Gentlemen: So much has been said in the newspapers about the color of my hair, I deem it but just to say it is due to your Imperial Hair Regenerator. I found the Court Hairdresser in London was applying it to the ladies in high social position, and I first had it applied by him, and now, during my stay in New York I have had the application made by him. The result has been beyond my highest expectation. The color obtained is most beautiful, uniform and best of all, it is harmless. Your preparation has my cordial recommendation. I believe there is nothing in the world for the hair like it.

A free sample bottle of the Best Regenerator, "Imperial Hair Regenerator," will be sent on receipt of 2-cent stamp. Imperial Chemical Mfg. Co., 222 Fifth Ave., New York.

widow, who survives him, has a double grief, for the only child of the couple died but a short time ago.

It is alleged that William Fishback, proprietor of the Grand Floral Hotel on Commercial street, has levanted in company with a frail woman, first drawing $300 from the Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, and leaving only $100 for her deserted wife to subsist upon. The Fishbacks came here from Truckee about four months ago, and are said to have had frequent quarrels.

A horse attached to a sulky on Fourth street yesterday noon, stirred up considerable excitement for a few moments by yanking himself free and tearing east down the street. Two men rushed after him, and succeeded in grasping the lines, when the festive animal proceeded to execute a war dance on his fore and hind legs alternately, but the men held pluckily on, and just around the corner on Los Angeles street, succeeded in throwing him.

Improvements which for some time have been contemplated at the East Side police station have not yet been made, but are much needed. The station is at present used for the keeping of female prisoners, and there are now three of them. The station has but one cell, and this is barely large enough for the women to sleep in. Such being the case, it is necessary during the day for an officer to be constantly on duty at the station to watch the women who are allowed to remain outside the cell.

A plan is under consideration to place an addition to the present station building, which addition shall include one cell and a room suitable to be used as a kitchen.
